

PACIFIC RAILROAD CLAIM.

Agreement of the Attorney General With Reorganization Committee. GOVERNMENT TO FORECLOSE LIEN.

Steps Taken to Prevent the Government's Incurring Loss by the Sale of the Road.

Washington, D. C., January 22.—Attorney General Harmon today gave out the following statement of the agreement with the reorganization committee of the Union Pacific railroad:

On the defeat of the funding bill in the house the president directed the attorney general to commence foreclosure proceedings against the Union Pacific Railway company, first making the best arrangements obtainable for the protection of the government's interests. Following the lines indicated in his last report, the attorney general began negotiations with the reorganization committee. On Thursday an agreement was made which will result in immediate steps to foreclosure. The subject of the negotiations was the protection of the government against the sacrifice of its claim by a sale at a price which would leave nothing substantial after paying prior liens. This protection is now assured by a guarantee that the government will receive the full amount of its principal and interest. The sum of $10,000,000 cash was on Thursday deposited with the United States Trust company of New York by General Lewis Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee, and Secretary of the agreement. The committee agreed to bid for the sinking fund if it is desired to sell it at any time before foreclosure sale.

Bills in equity have been prepared, and the attorney general and his staff are now making arrangements for their introduction to the senate. They will be introduced by Judge Sandborn, who has jurisdiction in all the districts, and whose consent to their filing is necessary because of the numerous pending suits in equity. The bills will be introduced in the senate by Judge Sandborn, who has jurisdiction in all the districts, and whose consent to their filing is necessary because of the numerous pending suits in equity.

The bills will be introduced in the senate by Judge Sandborn, who has jurisdiction in all the districts, and whose consent to their filing is necessary because of the numerous pending suits in equity. The bills will be introduced in the senate by Judge Sandborn, who has jurisdiction in all the districts, and whose consent to their filing is necessary because of the numerous pending suits in equity.

The bills will be introduced in the senate by Judge Sandborn, who has jurisdiction in all the districts, and whose consent to their filing is necessary because of the numerous pending suits in equity. The bills will be introduced in the senate by Judge Sandborn, who has jurisdiction in all the districts, and whose consent to their filing is necessary because of the numerous pending suits in equity.

THE LETTER FROM RODRIGUEZ.

It Sets Forth the Claims of the Nicaraguan Government.

Washington, January 22.—The document which formed the basis of Senator Morgan's remarks in the senate on the Nicaragua canal today was a communication from Senator J. D. Rodriguez, minister of the Republic of Central America. It was a typewritten paper of several pages, dated at the Greater Republic's legation in Washington in this city, January 15, 1897.

He says he has accordingly examined the various bills and finds that they are at variance in matters of detail, with the stipulations of the contract of April 2, 1857. Then he calls attention to the fact that the eighth article of that contract provides that the concession is not to be transferred to governments or to foreign powers, but that the stipulation shall entail a liability on the part of the United States government to the absolute extent, he says, of the variance with the contract. He reserves to himself the right to make a view to the company may issue with the stipulation of the contract. The company has refused to do so, and the bill says nothing on the subject. The committee has already been informed by the company that they are unable to do so. The committee has already been informed by the company that they are unable to do so.

NEWS FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

Venezuela Pays an Indemnity of Fifteen Hundred Pounds. BURTON SUES FOR MINING CLAIMS.

Chile Negotiating for the Purchase of a Warship—Guards Against the Bubonic Plague.

Protector, South African Republic, January 22.—The high court decided in favor of the American engineer, R. E. Burton, who sued the government for a declaration of rights in his favor respecting certain mining claims at Witfontein, or in default, demanding the payment of 1,000,000 pounds sterling ($15,000,000).

Chilean Notes. New York, January 22.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso, Chile, says: Vice Admiral Montt, formerly president of Chile, has left this city for New York. There was a grand military and civic demonstration in his honor.

The report of the minister of finance for the year just passed shows a surplus on hand over the amount estimated in the budget of 1,925,754 pesos. This leaves a surplus balance of 4,000,000 pesos.

London, January 22.—In the house of commons today Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, read a message on the subject of measures taken by the Indian government to cope with the plague. He pointed out that there was no epidemic except in Bombay, Karachi and Poona.

Experts, he admitted, predicted the plague in the winter, but he was hopeful that the measures adopted were beginning to have a real impression on the plague.

Chile to Buy a Warship. New York, January 22.—A special to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says: The Argentine government is negotiating with the United States for the purchase of a 10,000-ton armored warship. The vessel is now in course of construction.

New Cabinet in Ecuador. New York, January 22.—A report to the Herald from Guayaquil, Ecuador, says that President Alfaro has formed a new cabinet. It is made up of the following: Minister of foreign affairs, Dr. Belisario Alban Mestanza; minister of the interior, Dr. Rafael Gomez de la Torre; minister of finance, Ignacio Rabales; minister of the treasury, Isidor Maria Suarez; minister of war and navy, General Juan Francisco Morales.

Bubonic Plague. New York, January 22.—A special to the Herald from St. Petersburg says two cases of the bubonic plague, which is raging in Bombay, are reported from Kamanar, Kamanar is an island off the west coast of Arabia in the Red sea.

Venezuela Paid Indemnity. London, January 22.—The Times correspondent at Georgetown, British Guiana, says: Venezuela has paid an indemnity of 1500 pounds sterling for the Eranou outrage. I am unable to say whether this sum represents the total indemnity.

Traffic Stopped. Calcutta, January 22.—The government has ordered a stoppage on February 2 of all pilgrim traffic from Bombay and Karachi, on account of the plague. There are now over 1,750,000 persons employed on relief work and about 170,000 receiving gratuitous relief.

Rhodes Returns to England. Plymouth, January 22.—Colonel Cecil Rhodes, formerly premier of Cape Colony, arrived here today from South Africa. He has returned to England to be present at the parliamentary investigation which is to be made into the Transvaal raid.

Steamship Collision. London, January 22.—The British steamship Salisbury, from Port Beith to Newport, collided with an unknown steamer about four miles from Hibernia, Devon. The latter is supposed to have sunk with a crew of about twenty men.

Sir Isaac Pitman Dead. London, January 22.—Sir Isaac Pitman, the inventor of the system of shorthand writing which bears his name, is dead. He has been suffering several years from a complication of troubles.

Cardinal Binnelli Dead. Rome, January 22.—Cardinal Angelo Binnelli, bishop of Palestrina, is dead. He was born in Italy in 1817 and was created cardinal in 1882.

Blocked With Snow. Huron, S. D., January 22.—The Northwestern, Milwaukee and Great Northern railroads are blocked with snow, which has drifted badly. A Northwestern snow plow was thrown from the track near here today and two trainmen were seriously hurt.

Harris County's New Court. Austin, Texas, January 22.—The house committee on judicial districts has agreed upon a favorable report on the bill to create a new civil district court for Harris county, where the docket is greatly overcrowded. In the governor's recommendations there is a clause suggesting that forty judicial districts are sufficient. It may be necessary, therefore, to add some other court to the district, should the new court be established.

Democrat Overruled. New York, January 22.—Judge Fitzgerald in general session today handed down

THEY ASKED FOR REFORMS.

Resolutions Adopted by the Coast Defense Convention.

TRAINING VESSELS ARE WANTED. Congress Called Upon to Provide for the Better Equipment of the National Guard.

Tampa, Fla., January 22.—The South Atlantic and Gulf States harbor and coast defense improvement convention finished its work this afternoon.

Papers were presented today by Lieutenant Fithian of the United States steamer Raleigh and A. B. Parquhar of Pennsylvania, and one by Ira Harris of Minnesota. A permanent National Coast Defense Association was organized with the following officers:

President, General Horace Port of New York; secretary, Colonel James A. Frye of Massachusetts; vice presidents, J. G. Jordan of Georgia, General Low Wallace of Indiana, A. K. McClure of Pennsylvania, General R. A. Alger of Michigan, M. H. DeYoung of California, William Miller of Florida, and John C. Roper of Massachusetts; National commanders, Frank Brown of Massachusetts, A. A. Willey of Florida, Captain J. E. O'Brien of Florida, S. G. McLeod of Georgia, Major T. G. DeForest of Indiana, A. D. Wedderell of Illinois, J. D. McAlpin of New York, A. A. Dewey of North Carolina, S. E. Stebbins of North Dakota, W. R. Thompson of Pennsylvania, J. A. Hemphill of South Carolina and H. Wells of Vermont.

Resolved, That this convention earnestly calls the attention of the legislature of the several seacoast States which are located on the Atlantic coast, to the urgent necessity of adding to the existing force of the militia or National guards of each State, such battalions, battalions or regiments, for or garrison artillery as may be required for the defense of the coast, and that the reserve force of the militia or National guards of each State be increased by the war department to the regular fort artillery of the United States.

Resolved, That assistance should be rendered to the several seacoast States in the development of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

THEY ASKED FOR REFORMS.

Resolutions Adopted by the Coast Defense Convention. TRAINING VESSELS ARE WANTED. Congress Called Upon to Provide for the Better Equipment of the National Guard.

Tampa, Fla., January 22.—The South Atlantic and Gulf States harbor and coast defense improvement convention finished its work this afternoon.

Papers were presented today by Lieutenant Fithian of the United States steamer Raleigh and A. B. Parquhar of Pennsylvania, and one by Ira Harris of Minnesota. A permanent National Coast Defense Association was organized with the following officers:

President, General Horace Port of New York; secretary, Colonel James A. Frye of Massachusetts; vice presidents, J. G. Jordan of Georgia, General Low Wallace of Indiana, A. K. McClure of Pennsylvania, General R. A. Alger of Michigan, M. H. DeYoung of California, William Miller of Florida, and John C. Roper of Massachusetts; National commanders, Frank Brown of Massachusetts, A. A. Willey of Florida, Captain J. E. O'Brien of Florida, S. G. McLeod of Georgia, Major T. G. DeForest of Indiana, A. D. Wedderell of Illinois, J. D. McAlpin of New York, A. A. Dewey of North Carolina, S. E. Stebbins of North Dakota, W. R. Thompson of Pennsylvania, J. A. Hemphill of South Carolina and H. Wells of Vermont.

Resolved, That this convention earnestly calls the attention of the legislature of the several seacoast States which are located on the Atlantic coast, to the urgent necessity of adding to the existing force of the militia or National guards of each State, such battalions, battalions or regiments, for or garrison artillery as may be required for the defense of the coast, and that the reserve force of the militia or National guards of each State be increased by the war department to the regular fort artillery of the United States.

Resolved, That assistance should be rendered to the several seacoast States in the development of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

THEY ASKED FOR REFORMS.

Resolutions Adopted by the Coast Defense Convention. TRAINING VESSELS ARE WANTED. Congress Called Upon to Provide for the Better Equipment of the National Guard.

Tampa, Fla., January 22.—The South Atlantic and Gulf States harbor and coast defense improvement convention finished its work this afternoon.

Papers were presented today by Lieutenant Fithian of the United States steamer Raleigh and A. B. Parquhar of Pennsylvania, and one by Ira Harris of Minnesota. A permanent National Coast Defense Association was organized with the following officers:

President, General Horace Port of New York; secretary, Colonel James A. Frye of Massachusetts; vice presidents, J. G. Jordan of Georgia, General Low Wallace of Indiana, A. K. McClure of Pennsylvania, General R. A. Alger of Michigan, M. H. DeYoung of California, William Miller of Florida, and John C. Roper of Massachusetts; National commanders, Frank Brown of Massachusetts, A. A. Willey of Florida, Captain J. E. O'Brien of Florida, S. G. McLeod of Georgia, Major T. G. DeForest of Indiana, A. D. Wedderell of Illinois, J. D. McAlpin of New York, A. A. Dewey of North Carolina, S. E. Stebbins of North Dakota, W. R. Thompson of Pennsylvania, J. A. Hemphill of South Carolina and H. Wells of Vermont.

Resolved, That this convention earnestly calls the attention of the legislature of the several seacoast States which are located on the Atlantic coast, to the urgent necessity of adding to the existing force of the militia or National guards of each State, such battalions, battalions or regiments, for or garrison artillery as may be required for the defense of the coast, and that the reserve force of the militia or National guards of each State be increased by the war department to the regular fort artillery of the United States.

Resolved, That assistance should be rendered to the several seacoast States in the development of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the States upon our seacoast and those touching upon the lakes of the North and West be encouraged to form a reserve of coast militia, by the war department of a reserve of coast artillery by suitable legislative enactments on the part of the Congress of the United States.

Bright's Disease CAN BE CURED WITH SAFE WARNER'S Cure.

to observe those who passed to and fro behind him. In a pleasant way I asked him if he was expecting some one. He answered, smiling, that he was always expecting some one. He had saved his life once in Kansas City by looking into a mirror. A friend of the man he had murdered entered the room, saw Ford's face in the mirror, and instantly reached for his gun. Ford, lifting his hands, saw the man, and the moment their eyes met the man weakened and passed on. My friend, the judge, from force of habit, I presume, began to question Ford about the killing of Jesse James, and the fellow told us that he had been led to believe that he had killed James, whose friend and mentor he had been, he would be the greatest man in Missouri. That meant a great deal to this boy of 22, for outside of Missouri there was little worth striving for. And then, to justify his cowardly act, he related that it had been cowardly by James that a bank should be robbed soon, and Ford had been told that he was to enter the bank with James, who would save the man, and the moment their eyes met the man weakened and passed on. That meant a great deal to this boy of 22, for outside of Missouri there was little worth striving for. And then, to justify his cowardly act, he related that it had been cowardly by James that a bank should be robbed soon, and Ford had been told that he was to enter the bank with James, who would save the man, and the moment their eyes met the man weakened and passed on.

It was a quiet day in Creede camp in the morning of the summer of '92. Most of the miners were away in the hills; many of the gamblers and others of the night shift were still sleeping, though it was now 4 o'clock. A string of burros, laden with heavy loads of boards, which they were about to drag away up to the Last Chance, stood dreaming in San Luis avenue. Some fishermen with long cane poles thrown over their shoulders were trailing out at the lower end of the town in the direction of the Rio Grande. A string of heavy ore wagons was coming down the mountain from the Amethyst mine. The brake on the forward wagon gave way when the team was nearly down to the foot of the hill, and instantly the heavy load shot forward and the poor animals—there were six of them—bounded away in a mad effort to keep out of the way of the heavy load.

The wheel horses appeared to understand that they were expected to hold the wagon under the hill, and the driver, who was a young fellow, a hole at the top of the hill and to hire an express wagon to haul the girl up there. When the woman came and greeted sadly by another woman, who was not a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was a native of the town, she extended from the end of the bar to the front of the tent, fencing off a little space, which served as an office for the proprietor and his wife. The woman was a silent partner in the firm. The story he told of the girl who was